1st Nov 2016

Dear Dr. Sandeep Rai and Dr. Madhur Rai,

On behalf of Sahaja Yoga Singapore, we would like to express our heartfelt thanks to both of you for conducting a workshop and sharing your experiences on the medical aspects of Sahaja Yoga during the international Sahaja Yoga seminar held in Singapore from 15th - 17th April 2016.

The session was greatly appreciated by all the Sahaja Yoga practitioners present and we received much positive feedback from the audience that they had benefitted immensely from the session. The question and answer segment was especially welcome as many in the audience had questions about physical and other problems, and was eager to know how it could be solved through Sahaja Yoga methods. The advice and experiences shared by both of you were practical, helpful and inspiring to all.

We thank you once again for your time and effort to participate in this seminar workshop and for your valuable contribution towards medical research on Sahaja Yoga.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. _____

Sub: Credentials Committee – 62nd Annual Conference at Guwahati – 2016.

It is my pleasure to invite you to serve on the Credentials Committee to interview applicants who have expressed their desire to become Fellows of I.C.S. Indian Section. The interview will be held on Friday 11th November, 2016 at 5.00 p.m. at the conference venue.

Arrangements have been made to organize this official event with dignity and decorum that it deserves. It will be conducted with the help of Senior Fellows and office bearers of the College.

The interviews will be conducted by a group of 2 to 3 members and about 10 to 12 tables will be organized.

Mentioned below are a few guidelines for conducting this interview:

- Welcome the candidate with a smile and warm shake hand. Make him/her comfortable.
- Please remember that the applicant is not appearing for a test in Surgery and hence you may not ask questions to test his knowledge.
- Please try and ascertain his/her interest in joining the College and impress about the Fellowship, brotherhood, gaining scientific knowledge, etc.
- It should be indicated to the candidate that he/she would be expected to attend and participate at Zonal and Annual Conferences regularly.
- You may check on the original certificates, testimonials, if necessary
- Even if the candidate is not acceptable, you should be very polite to him/her without indicating anything.

I am indeed very grateful to you for accepting my invitation.

Fondest regards,

Yours Sincerely,

GLOBAL HEALTH SECURITY INDIA SECTION

Dear Colleague,

As you are aware Global Health Security (GHS) is a major initiative being implemented by India and at least 30 other countries. The GHS Agenda is intended to enhance global capacities to prevent, detect and rapidly respond to infectious disease threats around the world.

India is a major partner in this Agenda and will play a leadership role in Asia for effective implementation of global health security efforts worldwide.

Keeping the mission in mind, INDUSEM in partnership with the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention have been advancing the Global Health Security India Agenda since 2015.

We are inviting you to participate as you are a part of the Committee for GloHSIS. The meeting will be held at the St. Johns National Academy of Health Sciences Board Room in the Auditorium Complex on 22nd October 2016 at 1330 Hours. This meeting is being held on the sidelines of the 12th Annual INDO-US World Congress of Academic Emergency Medicine.

The main focus of the meeting will be accessing the activities done till date and brainstorming regarding key aspects of this initiative and potential linkages with the clinical care systems in India. The specific objective of the session will be to identify topics and ideas under categories of Prevention, Detection and Response (e.g. antimicrobial resistance, laboratory capacity, strengthening surveillance capacity and incident management capacity for emergency events) and identification of important institutional partners in India. Education, research and clinical care are the cornerstone of creating an effective emergency public health response system and we hope you will share your views on the same.

Please confirm via email with Dr. Sagar Galwankar, CEO of INDUSEM via Email at: sagar.galwankar@indusem.com

Dear Dr. Kadam:

Congratulations! By recommendation of the Credentialing and Member Services Committee, you were elected to FELLOW of the American College of Cardiology on January 16, 2018. Accordingly, the member directory of the College has been updated.

As a newly elected Fellow of the College, please reserve Monday, March 12, 2018 for the Convocation ceremony at the 67th Annual Scientific Session in Orlando, FL, March 10-12. Your Fellow certificate* will be available immediately following the ceremony. Details regarding the 2018 Convocation ceremony will be coming in the mail to you shortly.

Your membership in the College follows on years of education and training and it is a key part of your professional identification within the discipline and to the general public.

Your advanced field requires us to keep pace with the latest in research findings and practice, so the College is a premier source of scholarly information, clinical guidance, educational products and programs, and cutting-edge presentations and networking opportunities at the Annual Scientific Sessions. For a full list of member benefits visit www.acc.org/membership/member-benefits-and-resources. Your support helps us pursue the ACC Mission to advocate for quality cardiovascular care—through education, research promotion, development and application of standards and guidelines—and to influence health care policy. Our values shape our efforts:

- Professionalism: The interests of patients are primary.
- Knowledge: The College promotes growth, dissemination and application of knowledge.
- Value of the Cardiovascular Specialist: The cardiovascular profession makes a distinct contribution to medical care that should be recognized and enhanced.
- Integrity: Honesty, compliance with legal requirements, and ethical behavior are essential.
- Member driven: The College must be led by active members and must promote volunteerism.
- Inclusiveness: The College involves a broad range of volunteers that reflects its composition.

Dear Professor Rai

Following receipt of your consent form and Fellowship Fee, I am delighted to welcome you as a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh. The date of your election is 08/12/2017, the date on which your name was approved by Council.

You may wish to make a note in your diary that the New Fellows' Admission Ceremony and Dinner will be held on Friday 16 November 2018. At the Ceremony, the New Fellows are introduced to the President and Fellows, subscribe to the Promissory Obligation and sign the Fellows' Roll. Fellows may invite two guests to attend the Admission Ceremony, but attendance at the Dinner is restricted to New Fellows and one guest. We will write to you around the end of July 2018 to formally invite you to attend the New Fellows' Ceremony and Dinner and to give you more information.

Fellows who are unable to attend an Admission Ceremony can, if they wish, make an appointment with the President to go through a private ceremony of signing the Roll. At least one month's notice is required to arrange a private ceremony.

Fellows are also asked to pay an annual subscription, and details will be sent to you annually. Holders of UK bank accounts may pay by Direct Debit.

You should already have received an automated email with details of how to set your password for access to the RCPE Fellows' and Members' website and Education Portal. If you require assistance with this, please contact Avril Harries (a.harries@rcpe.ac.uk). Once you have set your password and logged in, you will be able to access all areas of the College website, including the latest specialty modules and webstreamed lectures, a searchable database of Fellows and Members, the facility to update your details online, and information about College events, activities and services: www.rcpe.ac.uk.

Please note that, as you are now a Fellow of the College, you are entitled to nominate suitable colleagues for election to Fellowship. Nomination forms may be downloaded from the secure section of the College website (<http://www.rcpe.ac.uk/membership/fellowship>) or sent on request from Avril Harries (telephone: + 44 (0) 131-247 3650, e-mail: a.harries@rcpe.ac.uk, fax: + 44

(0) 131-226 6124). I enclose a couple of brochures about Fellowship which you may wish to pass on to colleagues who may be interested.

If you wish to book a bedroom in the College at any time please contact the College Receptionist (reception@rcpe.ac.uk). Further information can be found on our website.

I enclose a questionnaire and would be very grateful if you could sign this and return it to me at the College in the reply paid envelope provided. Any personal information provided will be regarded as confidential and will not be released to other organisations.

Finally, please accept the complimentary gifts in the pack as a token of our welcome. I am delighted that you have become a Fellow and hope that your relationship with the College will be a long and happy one.

Yours sincerely

Date: 22nd June, 2016Subject: Invitation to judge Oral Paper Presentation for undergraduates in MediACE 2016

Respected Dr. Dubhashi Sir,

We, the students of Smt. Kashibai Navale Medical College, officially invite you as a judge for the Oral Paper Presentation for Undergraduate students in our annual national medical conference: MediACE 2016 to be held at Smt. Kashibai Navale Medical College, Pune on 20th and 21st August, 2016.

The Oral Paper Presentation for Undergraduates has been one of the foremost events at our conference since the time of its inception. We believe in encouraging our students as well as participants from other colleges to send in as many abstracts as they wish to, thus increasing the competition as well as the quality of our event and the overall conference. With each year, this event has been growing exponentially and last year, we received an overwhelming participation with more than forty abstracts sent in for screening.

This year, the Oral Paper Presentation for Undergraduates has tentatively been scheduled for the 20th and 21st August, 2016, starting at 7.30 am.

We would be delighted if you accept our request and grace the occasion with your presence as one of our esteemed judges.

Looking forward to your positive response,

Sincerely,

Team MediACE 2016

Summary: Medical Education is itself suffering from several ailments. The fragmented approach to teaching creates compartments in the minds of learners. The desired learning outcomes cannot be achieved with this approach. Integrated teaching is the need of the hour. Bioethics is a subject which exhibits the highest level of integration. It comprises of topics which warrant inputs from several disciplines. Introduction of Bioethics into the undergraduate and postgraduate curriculum is a welcome step. However, it needs to be emphasized that the delivery of the contents of this subject cannot be done in a traditional way. Bioethics teaching-learning involves an amalgamation of innovative and traditional methods of training. The behavioral characteristics that need to be explained with each sub-topic can be effectively demonstrated using role-plays and educational videos. The concept of Quality of Life is no longer the domain of only a physician or surgeon. It involves a team approach, with the clinical psychologist playing a pivotal role. The students need to be oriented to other facets such as philosophy of medicine, sociology and other aspects of medical humanities. The integrated curriculum should revive the family physician concept and bring out a much needed "basic" doctor, with essential moral values and an ability for critical thinking.

sought to examine the epigenetic regulation of these genes and their dysregulation in pregnancy related disorders. Based on the previous knowledge regarding the presence of fetal DNA in maternal plasma, we further extended our study to search for fetal epigenetic markers in maternal blood, exploiting the differential methylation pattern of genes in maternal blood and placenta.

Pregnant women were enrolled in five groups, based on the three trimesters in normal pregnancy and two pregnancy related disorder groups viz, preeclampsia and hydatidiform. Placental villi samples and maternal blood was obtained from each pregnant woman. Search of fetal epigenetic markers in maternal plasma, based on the difference in methylation between maternal DNA and placental DNA revealed a series of potential fetal epigenetic markers. We have also identified a few epigenetic fetal DNA markers that were specifically detected in pathological pregnancies viz, C-MYC and VEGF, hypermethylation of which acted as marker for preeclamptic pregnancy and both preeclamptic and molar pregnancy respectively, while SNRPN, which was identified as hypomethylated pattern in maternal plasma acted as fetal epigenetic marker for molar pregnancy.

Sepsis and septic shock continue to represent the major cause of death in intensive care medicine worldwide, with mortality rates ranging between 30% and 60%. Sepsis results from a host inflammatory response to infection. SMOF lipid infusion is beneficial in septic patients. It reduces pro-inflammatory markers and OS markers and mitigates the severity of sepsis by increasing and restoring antioxidants.

The aim of present study was to investigate the potential benefits of parenteral lipid emulsion with SMOF in septic patients in ICU. To estimate oxidative stress markers, serum inflammatory cytokines (Interleukin IL-6, IL-8 & IL-10 before and after SMOF therapy).

Present study reveals the importance of estimation of pro-inflammatory cytokines (IL-6, IL-8 & CRP) and OS markers (MDA, NO, SOD, CAT and Vitamin C) and lipid profile in diagnosis and prognosis in septic patients.

The inflammatory response to critical illness, including sepsis, involves the activation of leukocytes and other inflammatory cells leading to an excessive production of inflammatory markers and ROS. ROS mediated oxidative stress has been implicated in apoptotic cell death and in turn can be harmful to the patient when the endogenous antioxidant defense mechanisms are overwhelmed.

Present study can be considered as a bench mark for future research. Such studies will be helpful to the patients and clinicians to adopt an efficient treatment strategy for speedy recovery i.e. shorter hospital stay, reduce mortality and economic burden on society.

sought to examine the epigenetic regulation of genes and their dysregulation in pregnancy related disorders. Based on the previous knowledge regarding the presence of fetal DNA in maternal plasma, we further extended our study to search for fetal epigenetic markers in maternal blood, exploiting the differential methylation pattern of genes in maternal blood and placenta.

Pregnant women were enrolled in five groups, based on the three trimesters in normal pregnancy and two pregnancy related disorder groups viz, preeclampsia and hydatidiform. Placental villi samples and maternal blood was obtained from each pregnant woman. Search of fetal epigenetic markers in maternal plasma, based on the difference in methylation between maternal DNA and placental DNA revealed a series of potential fetal epigenetic markers. We have also identified a few epigenetic fetal DNA markers that were specifically detected in pathological pregnancies viz, C-MYC and VEGF, hypermethylated form of which acted as marker for preeclamptic pregnancy and both preeclamptic and molar pregnancy respectively, while SNRPN, which was identified as hypomethylated pattern in maternal plasma acted as fetal epigenetic marker for molar pregnancy.

Sepsis and septic shock continue to represent the major cause of death in intensive care medicine worldwide, with mortality rates ranging between 30% and 60%. Sepsis results from a host inflammatory response to infection. SMOF lipid infusion is beneficial in septic patients. It reduces pro-inflammatory markers and OS markers and mitigates the severity of sepsis by increasing and restoring antioxidants.

The aim of present study was to investigate the potential benefits of parenteral lipid emulsion with SMOF in septic patients in ICU. To estimate oxidative stress markers, serum inflammatory cytokines Interleukin IL-6, IL-8 & IL-10 before and after SMOF therapy.

Present study reveals the importance of estimation of pro-inflammatory cytokines (IL-6, IL-8 & CRP) and OS markers (MDA, NO, SOD, CAT and Vitamin C) and lipid profile in diagnosis and prognosis in septic patients.

The inflammatory response to critical illness, including sepsis, involves the activation of leukocytes and other inflammatory cells leading to an excessive production of inflammatory markers and ROS. ROS mediated oxidative stress has been implicated in apoptotic cell death and in turn can be harmful to the patient when the endogenous antioxidant defense mechanisms are overwhelmed.

Present study can be considered as a bench mark for future research. Such studies will be helpful to the patients and clinicians to adopt an efficient treatment strategy for speedy recovery i.e. shorter hospital stay, reduce mortality and economic burden on society.
