PROJECT SUMMARY

Title of Project: MF - Craniofacial and Cleft Programme at 'MGM INSTITUTE'.

Project Description / Objectives:

It is estimated that approximately 60,000 children are born with this birth defect in India each year. A large majority of these children (estimated at 80%) grow into adulthood without receiving any reconstructive surgery for want of money. The goal of the MF Cleft Programme at 'MGM Institute' is to perform significant number of cleft reconstructive surgeries and craniofacial surgeries by providing a full and comprehensive rehabilitation package of services to as many affected children as possible.

Funding support to achieve this objective will be provided by MF as part of its global commitment to helping children born with cleft lip and cleft palate. Surgeries will be conducted through the 'MGM Institute'

It is estimated that as a result of this funding, at least 300 reconstructive surgeries that include cleft / craniofacial surgeries will be performed per financial year. The financial support for surgeries is further outlined in Attachment 'B'. If it is anticipated that the actual number of cases is likely to exceed these projections, a prior written request for additional funding based on the same formula and on the same terms will be favorably considered, but approval shall be at the sole discretion of MF.

2. Surgery selection: Cleft patients will be selected by the In-charge of the particular project. Maxillofacial and Craniofacial Surgery patients will have to be pre-approved by the Medical Director.

3. Scheduling: Patients younger than 2 years will be posted early in the day. If two patients of same age are present, then cleft palate should be given preference. Cleft palate patients should be avoided as last patients of the day, if possible. When scheduling Maxillofacial and Craniofacial surgery patients, a bed must be reserved in the paediatric ICU. The paediatric intensivist must be informed in advance for post-operative management.

Patient factors. The minimum weight of the patient for cleft lip surgery should follow the WHO guidelines. The patient should be at least two SD from normal. Any patient below this recommended range should be enrolled in the nutrition program and surgery deferred until adequate weight and Hb is attained. In case of low Hb, the patient will be counselled by the Paediatrician and relevant medications to improve the Hb will be given to the patient. The patient has to be followed up at regular intervals to check for the increase in Hb. Under NO circumstances should Pre-operative blood transfusion to improve Hb be administered. Blood transfusion should be limited to post-operative patients in whom excessive blood loss has happened during the surgery.

5. Surgery Technique: The attending surgeon will be the best guide on the selection of the technique of the surgery. If the surgeon is not credentialed or is a trainee, the in-charge of surgery should be making the decision and the surgeon will operate under complete and direct supervision. Maaya Foundation will NOT take responsibility of the surgery if not performed by a Manya Foundation empanelled Physician.

6. Postoperative Medications: The In-charge of the particular cleft and craniofacial project will decide on the use of post-operative medications. This includes, antibiotics, analgesics and other medications as necessary.
